General Code of Ethics for Psychic/Medium Readers:

- I will become aware of the laws of the county, state, province, or nation in which I am practicing. I will strive to conform to those laws in my practice as a psychic reader and healing worker.
- I will dedicate myself to providing compassionate and competent services. Within the scope of my knowledge, training, and experience, I will serve all my clients to the best of my abilities, regardless of their race, gender, sexual orientation, religion, or country of national origin.
- I will represent myself to the public with a standard of professionalism. I will be honest and upright in my dealings with clients and colleagues, and I will encourage and assist others to maintain this standard.
- I will respect the personal rights of my clients, colleagues, and other professionals. I will safeguard the privacy of my clients and I will not slander, misrepresent, or make comparisons in a negative manner toward my competitors, colleagues, or fellow workers.
- I will continue to study, apply, and advance my knowledge and understanding of healing/psychic/mediumship, and related fields. I will always strive to become more proficient in my practices in order to better serve my clients.
- When a client's requirements are outside my scope of spiritual practice or area of specialization, I will notify them of such. If applicable, I will recommend practitioners with qualifications in that area of spiritual practice or specialization.
- If I believe that a client may be in an unsafe situation, in need of mental health care, medical examination or treatment, or legal advice or services, then I will refer them to a qualified professional or agency. I am not personally qualified in such fields. If necessary, I will postpone my services until I am assured that they are receiving licensed mental health, medical, or legal services.
- I will always strive to meet you where you are by using simple and easy to understand language. If there is a word, phrase, idea or concept used in a session that is not fully understood, I will strive to explain or re-define the word, phrase, idea and/or concept so that there is complete understanding.

- I will not misrepresent myself or my services while advertising. I will not make promises, guarantees, or claims of results that are false in order to increase interest in my advertisements.
- I will not engage in identity theft. I will not substitute the photograph or image of another person to represent myself, nor will I publish photographs or texts describing the spiritual works of another person to represent them as my own. If using or sharing another's work, I will always strive to correctly cite the work of another and give full credit to the original author.
- I will never share or sell your personal information including but not limited to email addresses, phone numbers and/or personal addresses.

Code of Conduct

In the Psychic/Mediumship work I agree to abide by this simple Code of Conduct for Psychic/Medium Readers:

- Ethical Psychic Readers do not charge more than agreed upon with each client. There are no “hidden fees” or “add-ons” after a stated price is agreed upon for the psychic reading or the healing work to be performed.
- Ethical Psychic Readers expediently assist clients whose cases they accept.
- Ethical Psychic Readers do not claim that their efforts will succeed “100%” or “in 24 hours” nor make any “guarantees.” In the event that obstacles are encountered in their work, they inform their clients honestly and stop the session in progress.
- Ethical Psychic Readers do not take financial or social advantage of clients with perceived psychological, medical, or legal problems. Whenever possible, they suggest appropriate and practical medical, legal, and social services to their clients that are supportive of the reading and the lightwork. They do not attempt to convince a client to renounce or refuse appropriate medical, legal, or social services.
- Ethical Psychic Readers do not engage in any activities harmful to their clients. They do not engage in financial fraud, psychological abuse or domination, sexual seduction or molestation, personal deception, or unscrupulous magical manipulations of their clients.
- Ethical Psychic Readers do not provide advice of a legal, financial, or medical nature. They do not supply advice which is significantly beyond their areas of actual training and competence, or for which they are not legally licensed or accredited.

- Ethical Psychic Readers do not harass or abuse clients or other lightworkers. No matter what differences of opinion may arise, they do not engage their clients in disrespectful, aggressive, mean-spirited, unwontedly sexual, revengeful, or malevolent communications or behavior.
- Ethical Psychic Readers do not require that their clients be exposed to dangerous situations Whilst engaged in reading services.
